

Zia Yusuf left as Reform UK boss. He gave £200,000 and helped it grow. His exit shows the party needs strong leaders.

Yusuf is rich, and his money helped. The party got £2.8m last year. His background made the party seem more open, but some disliked his leadership.

Nigel Farage needs a new leader for Reform UK. The party needs stable people to help win elections. Farage is strong, but he needs a good team.
