

Cookies help websites work. The BBC uses them to improve your visit. Some are always on, but you can choose extra ones.

Kagiso Rabada, a cricket player from South Africa, did something special at Lord's. He took five wickets in a match, which means he gets his name on.

Rabada got tips from Stuart Broad, a famous bowler, on how to bowl at Lord's. Rabada used these tips and did very well in the match.

Rabada had problems but worked hard. He wants to keep playing well for South Africa and stay among the top wicket-takers.

Rabada is now fourth on South Africa's list of best bowlers. He hopes to keep getting better and help his team win more matches in the future.