

Labour won the Hamilton, Larkhall and Stonehouse by-election. Reform UK came third with 26% of the vote, their best in Scotland.

SNP and Labour lost votes. SNP lost more than expected. Labour won by a small amount.

The Conservatives finished fourth, causing problems for their leader in Scotland. Reform UK's success may make them more important in Scottish politics.

People are unhappy with politicians. SNP wants to improve the NHS. Labour wants a new government. Reform UK may become important in Scotland.