

Lauren James is in England's Euro 2025 squad despite an injury. Michelle Agyemang, a young player, also joins.

England will play France on 5 July, then Netherlands and Wales. The final game is in Basel on 27 July. Some players are on standby to help.

Nine players from the Euro 2022 squad aren't playing now. Some retired, and others were injured but are now okay to play.

Lauren James is talented and can play in different positions. She gives England more choices for attacking and is hard to stop on the football field.