

Israel attacked Iran, causing trouble for Donald Trump. He promised peace but now faces a crisis and struggles to stay clear on these events.

Trump supports Israel but wants Iran to make a deal. Some in the US government are unsure about getting involved. Trump hopes Iran will talk.

Many people have died in Iran. Iran wants the United Nations to help. Talks with the US are planned, but a deal is unlikely.

Some US Republicans back Israel, others focus on America. Trump's team is split, but Trump is open to helping Israel more.

US soldiers in the Middle East make staying out of conflict hard. Trump wanted peace but now may face a new war as president.