

Help for Families with More Kids

Families get money for only 2 kids with Universal Credit. Scotland wants to help more kids, but some worry about costs and less money for services.

Most people who replied to the questions didn't want Social Security Scotland to deliver the payments, but some organisations did. Some said the UK.

Extra money may help with food, heating, and school needs. Some say it keeps people poor, but others think it helps with health and learning.