

Scientists used the James Webb telescope to map 800,000 galaxies over 13.5 billion years. This helps us learn how the Universe has changed.

The COSMOS group made a map of the sky. It took 2 years and a supercomputer. Now, anyone can use it to explore space.