

Rory McIlroy found the US Open hard. He started well but struggled later. He said his game was "pretty average" and felt frustrated.

McIlroy was upset about his golf club before the PGA Championship. He wanted to talk less to the media and finish the tournament quickly.

The course was tough, punishing small mistakes. McIlroy found it tricky and said you must be very careful with every shot.

McIlroy was happy with his driving. He found it hard to focus but hopes to do better in future tournaments.