

A girl, 16, died in a children's home. Police and council missed chances to help. She was charged with terrorism but later seen as a victim.

Rhianan was hurt by a bad person online. Her mum said people didn't help. The council missed chances to support her mental health.