

Violence in Ballymena, Northern Ireland. 32 police hurt, six arrested after protest. People feel scared and worried.

The police say the violence is racist. It targets ethnic minorities and police. Homes and businesses are damaged, and cars set on fire.

Leaders say the violence is wrong and hurts everyone. Police work to keep people safe and solve the crime.