

The Environment Agency checks hauliers in Devon and Cornwall for waste soil management. Some break the law by dumping harmful waste, which is bad.

The Agency wants to know how much waste hauliers have, what type it is, and where it goes to stop people breaking the law and protect nature.

Illegal waste harms the environment and costs money. Report it to Crimestoppers or the Environment Agency to keep the environment safe.