

Steve Reed wants businesses to give more money to help nature. This will make nature and the economy strong together.

The government wants ideas from businesses on how to get more money to help nature as part of their Plan for Change.

UK businesses need a healthy environment. The government wants them to plant trees and save habitats to help nature and create jobs.

The Call for Evidence is open until 10 August 2025. The UK is working on the Big Nature Impact Fund to help protect nature.