

Sir David Attenborough talked to Prince William about the harm some fishing methods cause to the oceans. They spoke before an important meeting about.

The UN wants to protect 30% of the ocean. 32 countries agree, but they need 60. The plan is to make safe ocean areas.

Bottom trawling can harm the ocean. Scientists want it stopped in safe areas, but some fishers say it's needed for food.

The ocean helps keep Earth cool, gives us oxygen, and supports jobs. It is very valuable.

Deep sea mining could harm the ocean. Scientists say we need more research before it starts.