

Better care can help people live longer.

Sara says people with learning disabilities face challenges and often die younger. She wants decision-makers to listen to improve their healthcare.

Dr Dawn Cavanagh is worried about how people with learning disabilities are treated. The Welsh government wants to make healthcare better for them.