

Over 110 people in Scotland are honoured for helping their community and country. This year highlights those in public service.

The Honours list has people from sports, arts, and health. 9% are from Scotland. The Prime Minister praised their hard work for the country.

John and Linda Norgrove got OBEs for work in Afghanistan. Zahrah Mahmood got an MBE for helping ethnic minorities enjoy the outdoors.

Anyone can nominate someone for an honour if they know someone who has done amazing things. You can find out how to do this on the government.