

Changes to Disability Benefits Delayed

The UK Government wants to change disability benefits to save money. This might hurt people with disabilities, and many are upset.

The Government will wait until 2026 to change PIP. They will ask people with disabilities to help make sure the changes are fair.

Many think changes are too harsh. They worry cuts will hurt people who need help. They want the Government to know the effects before acting.