

Iran has banned walking dogs in many cities due to health and safety worries. The rule started in Tehran in 2019 and now covers 18 more cities.

In Iran, some see dogs as bad due to beliefs from 1979. Young people get dogs to resist strict rules, even walking them despite new rules.

Iran's leaders say pets are not allowed. Dogs are seen as not clean. Some hide their dogs. People think police should focus on bigger problems.
