

CMA Looks at Google Search

The CMA wants Google search to be fair in the UK. They may give Google a special status to help make changes.

The CMA wants fair competition. They suggest easier switching of search services and more control for publishers.

The CMA will decide by October and wants opinions. They aim to boost UK tech and will review again in 2026.