

Muckamore Abbey Hospital Inquiry

People at Muckamore Abbey Hospital were hurt by staff for many years. An inquiry is checking why it happened and how it was allowed to go on.

Families and lawyers say the hospital lacked staff trained in learning disability care. Leaders didn't stop bad treatment, leading to court cases.

People want more money, better training, and cameras to keep people with learning disabilities safe. Families want good care for their loved ones.