

Carlos Alcaraz won a big tennis final against Jannik Sinner. It was long and exciting. Alcaraz saved three match points. This was his fifth big win.

Two young players, born in the 2000s, played the longest French Open final, marking a new era in men's tennis after Djokovic and Nadal.

Sinner has done well but often loses to Alcaraz. He feels playing Alcaraz is special and says every tennis rivalry is unique and hard to compare.

Alcaraz leads Sinner in their matches. Alcaraz will play at Wimbledon soon. Both have big matches in 2025. They are strong tennis players.

Alcaraz and Sinner are young tennis stars. Alcaraz wins big titles like Nadal. Sinner is the youngest in finals since 1994. Their rivalry is exciting.
