

People in Praia da Luz want the Madeleine McCann case to end. She went missing in 2007. Her family still hopes, but finding her seems unlikely.

The police think they have a suspect named Christian. He lived near Praia da Luz. They believe Madeleine might be dead.

Police searched old buildings in Portugal but found no new evidence. People hoped for answers.

The police searched hard in the sun, using machines and checking wells for Madeleine or her things, but found nothing new.

People feel sad. They want answers. The hope to solve the mystery is fading. Police say they try hard, but it seems harder to find out what happened.