

Worries About US Stock Market

JP Morgan's boss, Jamie Dimon, is worried US stock markets might fall soon. He also thinks the US is now a "less reliable" partner globally.

Dimon announced a big investment in Bournemouth. He praised the UK's economy but warned the US stock market might fall.

He talked about risks, military needs, and keeping the Federal Reserve independent. He joked about being president but focuses on JP Morgan.