

Helping Farmers Cut Pollution

The Environment Agency will get more money to check farms and stop pollution, keeping rivers and air clean.

Farmers will get advice to meet rules. If they break them, they'll be told what to fix. More checks will help farms follow rules and protect nature.

The government is helping farmers with clear rules to protect the environment.