

Speech on Maternity Services

The Health Secretary said some hospitals need to improve to keep mums and babies safe.

Families had sad times with birth problems. The Secretary said sorry and promised to listen and make things better.

A group will help keep mums and babies safe. They need help from doctors and nurses to do this.