

A diamond tiara owned by Nancy Astor sold for £700,000. She was the first woman in the UK House of Commons. Her husband bought it in 1930.

The tiara with diamonds and turquoise sold for more than expected at a London auction. It is special because it is rare and has a good history.

Nancy Astor was a famous politician. She helped change the drinking age to 18 and worked to lower the voting age for women from 30 to 21.
