

UK Cyber Security Boost

The UK is giving money to cyber security to make more jobs and new ideas. This will help keep the UK safe online.

Up to £16 million will help new cyber ideas become businesses and support small cyber companies, keeping the UK a leader in cyber security.

Experts will help the government keep public services safe and improve the UK's digital world.