

In 2025, two astronauts will return to Earth in March after over six months in space on a SpaceX capsule.

Nasa's TRACERS mission in April will study how the Sun affects Earth, helping us understand space weather that can impact devices.

Saturn's rings will look like they disappear in March but will be back by the end of the year when Saturn tilts.

Juno's mission at Jupiter ends in 2025. It showed amazing views. Watch for lunar eclipses in March and September.