

Helping people with learning needs

WUTH worked with Wirral Mencap to help people understand learning disabilities. Volunteers visited to learn about support.

At Arrowe Park Hospital, patients with learning disabilities can visit before surgery. They have a calming space called Archie's Room for extra needs.

The hospital listens to people with learning disabilities to make services better. They have worked on things like hospital signs and information.