

Rangers are set to pick Russell Martin, 39, as their new manager, replacing temporary manager Barry Ferguson.

Martin will bring his team to Ibrox. People are curious about his fast, attacking style of play. Martin believes in his football ideas.

Some think Martin won't change, but others say he can. Angus Gunn says Martin's teams can adapt. Martin wants to stick to his ideas, even if seen as stubborn.

Rangers may change players for Martin's style. New funds can help. Martin knows how to build teams, so fans can expect exciting football with goals.

Get Rangers news on the BBC Sport app. Find stories about other sports too, like cricket and tennis. Stay updated with BBC sports news.