

The Prime Minister and President Trump talked about peace in the Middle East and worries about Iran. They will meet again at the G7 in Canada.

The Prime Minister's Office shared this chat. They use cookies on their website to help it work better.