

The UK and Scotland are working to grow the economy. They met in Edinburgh to help businesses and workers with defence and nuclear power.

Ian Murray and Richard Lochhead led a meeting to discuss helping Scottish businesses grow and sell worldwide.

The UK is spending more on defence and nuclear power, creating jobs in Scotland. They will help Scottish businesses by promoting them overseas.