

Jack Grealish joined Manchester City in 2021. He was happy because they paid a lot for him. He helped them win trophies like the Premier League.

Grealish got hurt a lot and didn't play much. He missed playing for England in Euro 2024.

Now, it looks like Grealish might leave City. The team has new players, and he wasn't picked for some games. He thinks it's time to find a new club.

City and Grealish both agree he should leave. But his big wages make it tricky. They might loan him to another team to solve this.

Grealish wants to stay in the Premier League or move to a European club. He wants to play in big matches like the Champions League.

Grealish might need to take less money to find a new team. If not, he might play in Saudi Arabia.
