

New Rules for Cleaner Water

The UK is making new rules to stop water pollution and flooding. This will help build 1.5 million homes with better rainwater systems.

New rules suggest green roofs and soakaways. They help nature, save energy, make places nicer, and stop flooding by soaking up rainwater.

Builders should be creative. Money from companies will help clean rivers and seas. It's part of the government's big change plan.