

Day 3 at COSP18 Highlights

At COSP18, people talked about making the world better for people with disabilities. They spoke about the need for Indigenous leadership, ending bad.

Promises to help people with disabilities often aren't kept. We need better data, plans, and money to support them, especially in tough times.

We need to change how media shows people with disabilities. Also, laws for women with disabilities don't always match real life.