

Tesla shares fell 14% after a fight between Elon Musk and Donald Trump about government spending.

Trump might stop giving work to Musk's companies. This worries people about Tesla's future. Investors fear it could affect Tesla's growth.

Musk and Trump are arguing. Musk thinks Trump's plans are bad for the economy, making people worry about Tesla's future.

Investors want Musk to focus on Tesla, not politics. This has caused Tesla's share price to drop to its lowest since May.
