

Aid for power bills

The UK will help over 7,000 businesses by cutting electricity bills by 25% from 2027 and create 1.1 million jobs in ten years.

The UK wants to lower electricity costs and help big energy businesses like steel and chemicals to grow.

The plan helps clean energy, skills training, and quick grid access. The government wants to grow the economy and make Britain great for business.