

The FIA made changes to Formula 1. Some people are unhappy and think it might be harder for everyone to have a fair say.

OAMTC from Austria says the changes are unfair and give one person too much power. Some countries want more time to decide.

The changes give the president more control and make it hard to disagree. They were made without everyone having a fair chance to vote.

The president broke promises. Some important jobs are gone. People pay big fines for talking about certain things.
