

Kyle Ashman from Love Island was removed after a fight. He was arrested but not charged. Kyle hopes to return as a bombshell.

Kyle, who works with water, says he is not violent. He wanted to find love on the show, but his chance was taken away. ITV said he left for "personal reasons."

Conor Phillips, a rugby player from Ireland, will replace Kyle. Conor, a "class clown," has played for Munster since 2022.
