

Three people will join the Horniman Museum board as trustees from April 2025 to April 2029.

Patrick Barker helps charities. He has worked in mental health and cancer. He thinks the museum is great for families.

Edmund Neuberger is a lawyer for building projects. He is very good and works worldwide. He likes running and cooking for fun.

Naila Yousuf is an architect who helps museums. She is excited to support the Horniman Museum. Trustees are not paid and have no big political ties.
