

New Walking Path on Isle of Sheppey

A new 28-mile path on the Isle of Sheppey is open. It's part of the King Charles III England Coast Path with lovely views and nature spots.

The path starts at Kingsferry Bridge, goes around the island, through Queenborough and Sheerness, with wildlife, history, and local shops.

Buses and trains go to the new path. Find maps online. It's great for nature lovers and helps the local community with more visitors.
