

Sophie Ecclestone is back in the England squad for the T20 series against India after a break to focus on her wellbeing and recover from injuries.

She replaces Sarah Glenn. Ecclestone is back, but Glenn will play for The Blaze in another series.

England will play five T20 matches with India from 28 June, followed by three one-day matches. They're preparing for the World Cup later this year.