

Thomas Tuchel, England manager, was unhappy with the team's attitude during their 1-0 win against Andorra, feeling they lacked urgency.

England had the ball a lot. Kane scored in the 50th minute. Tuchel wants a better game against Senegal.

England played in hot weather after a long season. Experts thought they should have scored more goals and had more energy against a weaker team.

Tuchel changed the team. Jordan Henderson started for the first time since November 2023. He tried new player positions for better ball control.

Noni Madueke played well, helped with a goal, and might join the England team.