

England's Water Shortage Warning

By 2055, England may lack water due to climate change, more people, and nature needs. An extra billion litres is needed for energy and food.

Water companies plan to fix 60% of the shortage by using less water and stopping leaks. The rest will come from new water sources, like building.

Take shorter showers, turn off taps. Smart meters show water use. Homes and businesses should use water wisely.