

Social Care Commission News

The government shared plans for the Social Care Commission led by Baroness Casey. She met users, like Mary, to gather ideas for its focus.

Mary and others want everyone included, especially those with profound learning disabilities, so their voices are heard and not forgotten.

Learning Disability England will work with the commission to include what matters to people with learning disabilities using the Good Lives framework.