

New Leader for UN Assembly

Annalena Baerbock from Germany is the new President of the UN's 80th General Assembly. She is the first woman from Western Europe to get this role.

Ms. Baerbock wants the UN to work better, support the 2030 Agenda, and include everyone. She talks about teamwork and giving every country a voice.

She supports the UN80 plan for a strong UN to help with peace. The UN General Assembly is where all countries talk and decide together.
